BERNARD M. KIRSNER, LTD.

CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

To the Board of Directors of Birkelbach Investment Securities, Inc.

We have examined the accompanying financial statements of BIRKELBACH INVESTMENT SECURITIES, INC. as required by Rule 17a-5(d) as of December 31, 2008 and for the year then ended, and have issued a report thereon dated January 21, 2009. As part of our examination we reviewed and tested the system of internal accounting control and the procedures for safeguarding securities to the extent we considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards and by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. In addition, we reviewed the practices and procedures followed by the Company:

1. in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness and net capital as required by Rule 17a-3(a)(11).
2. in making the quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications and comparisons and the recording of differences required by Rule 17a-13.

Rule 17a-5 contemplates that the scope of the review and tests should be sufficient to provide reasonable assurance that any material weaknesses existing at the date of our examination would be disclosed. Under these standards and that Rule the purposes of such evaluation are to establish a basis for reliance thereon in determining the nature, timing and extent of other auditing procedures that are necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements and to provide a basis for reporting material weaknesses in internal accounting control.

The objective of internal accounting control is to provide reasonable but not absolute assurance as to the safeguarding of assets against loss from unauthorized use or disposition, and the reliability of financial records for preparing financial statements and maintaining accountability for assets. The concept of reasonable assurance recognizes that the cost of a system of internal accounting control should not exceed the benefits derived and also recognizes that the evaluation of these factors necessarily requires estimates and judgments by management. However, for the purpose of this report, under Rule 17a-5, the cost-benefit relationship has been disregarded in determining weaknesses to be reported.

There are inherent limitations that should be recognized in considering the potential effectiveness of any system of internal accounting control. In the performance of most control procedures, errors can result from misunderstanding of instructions, mistakes of judgment, carelessness or other personal factors. Control procedures whose effectiveness depends upon segregation of duties can be circumvented by collusion. Similarly, control procedures can be circumvented intentionally by management either with respect to the execution and recording of transactions or with respect to the estimates and judgments required in the preparation of financial statements. Further, projection of any evaluation of internal accounting control to future periods is subject to the risk that the procedures may become inadequate because of changes in conditions and that the degree of compliance with the procedures may deteriorate.

Our study and evaluation of the system of internal accounting control for the year ended December 31, 2008, which was made for the purposes set forth in the first paragraph and would not necessarily disclose all weaknesses in the system which may have existed during the period under review, disclosed no weaknesses that we believe to be material.

The Company claims exemption from Rule 15c3-3 under paragraph (k)(2)(B). Conditions of the exemption were being compiled as of the examination date and no facts came to our attention to indicate the exemption had not been compiled during the period under examination.
